

Watch your struggling readers smile when they taste success!

Three free workshops will soon be held in Pasco County, FL. Our famous peanut butter and jelly sandwich will be explained, and cookies will be served. Please join us.

Effective reading intervention requires something special - and something different.

This sandwich is one of many memory-aiding clues (mnemonics) used in the Stevenson Program to teach specific vowel patterns, syllable types and other phonics elements. Stevenson is both effective and fun.

Workshops will be held at

The Stevenson Reading Program

A little imagination goes a long way!

The Stevenson Program is a research-based, phonics-oriented approach that uses proven methods in imaginative new ways to reach all kinds of students, even those who have struggled and failed using other specialized programs. The unique mnemonic clues and an unusual sequence make all the difference.

Free Support Session
7:00 - 9:00 P.M.

This evening session is designed specifically for any teacher who already uses the Stevenson Reading Program. Managing Editor, Bill Stevenson, will discuss special situations, demonstrate strategies for specific learning problems, and answer any questions the group may have. This is an excellent opportunity to discuss issues not covered in the manuals, or to get clarification on strategies that are.

Friday, Mar. 7, 2014

Free Introductory Workshop
1:30 - 4:00 P.M.

This session is designed for teachers and parents who want to learn about the Stevenson Program for the first time, or who have just begun to use it. This workshop will explain how the Stevenson Program addresses the needs of struggling readers and how it differs from other approaches. The participants will also learn how to apply Stevenson's key word-attack strategy and how to select materials for different kinds of students.

Saturday Mar. 8, 2014

Free Introductory Workshop
9:30 A.M. - 12:00 Noon

This session is a repeat of the March 7 workshop intended for parents and teachers who could not get free on Friday afternoon. The workshop will explain how the Stevenson Program addresses the needs of struggling readers and how it differs from other approaches to reading. Participants will also learn how to apply Stevenson's key word-attack strategy and how to select materials for different kinds of students.

Although each workshop is free, advance registration is requested. You can sign up online by going to the Events and Workshops section of our website, call us toll free M-F, 9-5, or fax us your name, address, e-mail and the session you wish to attend. Please call if you have questions:
