Videos on the Website

On our website you will find some short videos you can view for free, and more like those will be added in 2023 and 2024. We also have four videos of approximately one hour each that go into depth about reading issues:

Understanding Reading Problems: Dr. Tom Diebold

Tom presents key issues in reading and multi-sensory phonics. Topics include:

Vision Based Reading Problems
Decoding Based Reading Problems

De-Mystifying Phonics
Multi-sensory Structured Language Approaches

Changes are coming.

We believe in the abiding value of books and paper, but teachers need options. Therefore, we are gradually going to create more digital material and videos (without abandoning actual books). In the process, we are going to reformat some of our current items, so now . . .

Here's a Big Deal!

In 2023 the bound books below will be discounted 60% - as long as they last! In 2024 the student materials will only be available as PDF files sold on-line, while teachers' editions will remain as bound books, but will return to full price.

Selecting Materials

For detailed information, go to our website and/or contact us with questions. To make things simple, here is a general - not perfect – rule of thumb: IF you are starting with a single pupil, get a Beginning Level Starter set for children under 9 years old, and an Overlapping Strategy Set for students over 9, and call us about 9 year-olds. Below are more hints, but we are also happy to discuss individual situations on-line or by phone.

Beginning Typical Learners

You will have the option of starting with Stevenson's Letter's Manual in Kindergarten, or the Beginning Green Manual in First Grade. If you start in Kindergarten, the early lessons of the Beginning Green Manual in first grade will be review. If you begin in First Grade, you may want to use some of the Stevenson's Letters to supplement, but most typical learners will not need the extra practice. After students finish all levels, they should be able to attack middle school materials.

Younger Elementary Struggling Readers (K,1-2)

You will begin these students with the Beginning Green Level and proceed in a mastery fashion, step by step, level by level. These students will not be reading at grade level when they begin, so how fast they progress depends entirely on their learning issues. Students with fewer learning problems will cover the entire Green Level PLUS the Lonely Vowels in one year. On the other hand, young disabled readers with severe issues might take as much as two full years to go through that material. Most struggling readers will fall somewhere in between. (Because there are many different types of students in Stevenson, we do not assign grade levels.)

The Third Grade Conundrum

It is extremely difficult to know where to start with a third grade student who has some splinter skills. If the third graders are frequently using the wrong consonant sounds (except for b and d confusion that can be handled separately), they need to start at the Beginning Green Level. Also, students who move very slowly, such as cognitively impaired pupils, should start with the Green. Likewise, students whose speech and language problems make them very difficult to understand, should use the Green. On the other hand, students who struggle mostly with the vowel sounds and the general inconsistencies of English phonics, can start at the Overlapping Strategy materials (see below). This approach requires students to know consonant sounds and shapes consistently and know a few sight words. It also moves faster than the Green Level. If you need more advice, contact us.

Older Elementary Struggling Readers (Gr 4-6)

The Overlapping Strategy was specifically designed for this type of student. The Overlapping Strategy Teacher's Manual and the Overlapping Strategy Student Book, which have part Green and Part Blue covers, replace the entire Beginning Green Level. Those two books are used in conjunction with the Basic Blue Level materials. The key components of the first level are pulled out and covered more quickly while new points from the second level are being introduced (thus the "Overlapping" name.) The two Overlapping books will tell you when and what to use from the Basic Blue level. After you complete the two Overlapping books, you continue forward with the remaining blue books. It probably will take between a year and a year and a half to finish all of the Overlapping and Blue. The Basic Blue Level is followed by the Intermediate and FDM books (peach/orange in color), after which students will be able to attack middle school reading material.

Middle/High School LD or Impaired Learners

These students will use essentially the same Overlapping Strategy as the older elementary students. Students who might be severely dyslexic will undoubtedly have failed many times, and they may be frustrated. The best cure for frustration is success, but these older students still need to start at a simple level to build a solid and reliable foundation. They also need to be treated as adults. Other older students, who are likely to be in Special Education classes and may have multiple handicaps, including cognitive issues, will also need to start with the Overlapping Strategy. However, you may wish to call us since additional adjustments could be necessary.

The Lonely Vowels

The Lonely Vowels books cover the classic short vowel words. If your progress in the Beginning Green Level has been smooth and steady, you can introduce these books at Lesson 27 of the Green Teacher's Manual. The additional progress you may make using the Lonely Vowels can be impressive. However, if your students have significant learning problems, they may need to wait until the Basic Blue Level where the short vowels will also be taught.
